CARE INSTRUCTIONS

The following section provides some guidance for you on caring for your product. It is by no means an exhaustive list.

Genuine Leather

Genuine Leather is a natural product and as a result will have "imperfections" such as bite marks, stretch marks and in some instances brand marks. This all contributes to the natural uniqueness of the product. In instances where leather is dyed, due to the cell structure the colour might be slightly lighter or darker on one piece of leather. Leather might also become softer and stretch over time

NATURAL (FULL) GRAIN LEATHER is the premium leather choice. This fully authentic leather retains the natural texture and markings of the hide. No corrections to the hide have been made. Full grain leathers are coloured with clear (aniline) or semi-clear (semi-aniline) dyes, without covering the natural grain and markings.

CORRECTED GRAIN LEATHER hides, although they retain their quality, thickness, strength and supple feel, are gently buffed to even out the grain to remove unwanted markings and then embossed with a uniform grain pattern. Depending on the condition of the hide, the level of alteration could be partly to fully corrected. Partly corrected hides are coloured with semi-aniline dyes, and fully corrected hides are dyed with opaque pigments to be more effective at covering natural marks

The furniture is made for use in a normal household. Lounge suites were designed for your comfort, however, the armrest and edges of the back cushions were not made for seating. Headrests and areas where hands continuously rub will take additional wear and tear and you might have to cover it.

Please protect all upholstered and leather products from sunlight. Cover or draw curtains if necessary.

Cleaning of Leather

- Remove dust with a clean soft duster
- For any spills, damp with a soft cloth immediately. Leather can be stained from liquid spills and should be avoided!
- Determine the type of leather for your product and only use the appropriate leather conditioner sold by Môredou. Avoid any other type of abrasive cleaners and do not wash your leather product
- Depending on the use of your product, leather conditioning should be applied every 4 – 12 months
- The consultants at Môredou will help you identify the correct leather conditioning suitable for your product and will explain the application process

Upholstered Products

- Upholstered products should be dusted regularly
- A vacuum cleaner can be used provided it has an upholster attachment
- Liquid spills should be avoided as it could lead to stains
- Wet wash of upholstered products are not recommended as it could lead to the “bleeding” of colours in the fabric

Wooden furniture

- Some wooden furniture is made from reclaimed wood and will therefore have several “imperfection” markings adding to its uniqueness
- Avoid liquid spills at all cost as this could lead to stains
- Hot appliances, cups, pots and pans etc. can leave burn marks on wooden surfaces
- Discuss the cleaning and conditioning options with a Môredou consultant

WARRANTIES

In some instances, warranties are provided by the supplier of the product to Môredou. Warranties as described below only apply where this is in place together with the original proof of purchase (including the Môredou invoice)

Wooden Furniture – carries a 1 year warranty for defective craftsmanship

Upholster product frames – carries a 2 year warranty for defective craftsmanship and material

Upholstery & Leather– carries no warranty as it is subject to wear and tear

Bedding – the Môredou consultants will explain warranties applicable to your purchase as it is supplier dependent

Please note that suppliers have the right to change the warranties terms and conditions at any time.
